HAVE GOOD HEALTH

Take Hood's Sarsaparilla, the Old Reliable Spring Tonic.

Don't let the idea that you may feel better in a day or two prevent you from getting a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla today from any drug store and starting at once on the road to health and strength.

When your blood is impure and impoverished it lacks vitality, your digestion is imperfect, your appetite is poor, and all the functions of your body are impaired.

Hood's Sarsaparilla is a wonderful blood tonic. It will build you up quicker than any other medicine. It gives strength to old and power to endure. It is the old standard tried and true all-the-year-round blood purifier and enricher, tonic and cathartic. It does not act like a laxative for nothing else has the same formula or ingredients. Be sure to ask for Hood's; insist on having it. (Adv.)

This reduces the command at Fort Ethan Allen to a few troops under Captains Smithers, which remains all summer as guard.

Vermont farmers are unusually worried at the present time in regard to the crop of the State. The time for the planting of corn in Vermont is towards the end of May, but owing to the late and cold spring, very little planting was done at that time. The constant rains since then have prevented any great amount of planting being done and what ever corn has been in the ground has rotted. The same situation is said to prevail in other States and to have affected other crops besides corn.

The Standard Oil company, which has the contract for selling the city streets this summer, managed to complete the work Saturday and the oiling machine was sent to St. Albans. The oiling work will be done because of the unusually heavy rains this week, which should have been done in three or four days, required nearly a month. One of the most annoying features of the oiling process was that in several cases the oil was washed from the street on to the nearby lawns by the rain, damaging the grass. The rain, however, will not require another oiling for a considerable period of time.

The forty of Norwich University cadets, numbering about 75, who in the past two weeks have been encamped at the State reservation under the command of First Lieut. Ralph M. Parker, E. S. A., professor of military science and commander of cadets, returned to Northfield Saturday. Despite the rain, which fell on every day except two during the encampment, the cadets worked out their field problems and performed their various maneuvers with the utmost cheerfulness and claimed they enjoyed the experience. There was not a single man on the sick list during the fortnight's stay at the reservation, and the hard work in the open brought the men into the finest physical condition possible. The camp is an annual feature of the university.

Many residents of Burlington and a number of business houses who had long ago ceased even to speculate as to what had become of various letters mailed about August 25, 1915, and which had never been received by the addressees were surprised Thursday morning to receive with their regular mail their original letters, of which all traces had been lost. The envelopes had a decidedly weather-beaten appearance and all had been opened, although in most cases, where neither cash nor checks had been enclosed, the contents had not been disturbed. The following inscription was posted on the back of each envelope: This piece of mail was found in a rifle mail pouch near Gardner, Mass., June 10, 1916. Evidently it had been exposed to the weather since August 25, 1915. George L. Minotti, P. M. Gardner, Mass.

The wedding ceremony at St. Michael's College was held last evening. The bride, Miss Irene Stanton Bullock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Bullock, both late of this city, and Frank Charles Broadbent, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Broadbent of Upton, N. Y., were married by Rev. E. H. Bernier, S. S. E., at the home of the bride on South Union street, the single ring Episcopal service being performed by the Rev. William Henry Barnes of Trinity Mission, Winoski, the Rev. G. W. Davenport of St. Paul's church in this city, being in attendance at the diocesan convention in Montpelier. The wedding was very quiet, owing to the recent death of the bride's father, only relatives and immediate friends being present.

The wedding march was played by Miss Frances Barnes, violinist, with Mrs. Charles L. Burke at the piano. The bride on the arm of her brother, Dr. W. L. Bullock of Atlantic City, who gave her in marriage, was preceded downstairs by Dorothy Buckley, her cousin, who strewn her path with flowers. The ceremony was performed in the front parlor beneath a bower of palms and seasonal flowers, where she was met by the groom, who was unattended.

The bride wore an evening gown of white net, trimmed with shadow lace, and carried a shower bouquet of orchids, bride's roses and lilies-of-the-valley. Her little flower girl wore a frock of white tulle and carried a basket of violets and forget-me-nots. The ceremony was followed by a reception, a buffet lunch being served in the dining room, Lucinda Smith catering. The house was artistically decorated by Peters, the florist. In the front parlor a profusion of peonies and other seasonal flowers were used with palms and ferns. The color scheme carried out in the dining room was yellow, Marchal Niel roses forming the centerpiece. The living room and staircase were also prettily decorated.

Mr. and Mrs. Broadbent are the center of a large circle of friends. Mrs. Broadbent was educated in the public schools of this city, being graduated from the high school in the class of 1911 and took a post-graduate course in 1912. Mr. Broadbent was educated in Upton, being graduated from Upton Free Academy with the class of 1909. They left last evening for a two weeks' honeymoon trip during which they will visit Niagara Falls, Buffalo and Upton. They will reside at 100 Hull street on their return to this city.

CATHEDRAL WEDDING. Edward F. Riley and Miss Ruth McDermott Married Yesterday.

A quiet but pretty wedding was solemnized at St. Mary's Cathedral yesterday morning at six o'clock, when Edward Francis Riley of Peabody, N. Y., and Ruth Elizabeth McDermott, daughter of Mrs. Margaret McDermott of Mineville, N. Y., were united. The Rev. W. H. Cassidy performed the ceremony. The bride wore a blue tulle suit, with hat to match, and a corsage bouquet of bridal roses. She was attended by Miss Sophia McDermott, who wore a blue silk gown, with hat to match, and a corsage bouquet of American beauty roses. Edward Nash acted as best man. After the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of Mrs. Thomas Nash, 84 North Willard street, only the immediate family being present. After a short honeymoon trip to New York State, Mr. and Mrs. Riley will reside at Bennington.

COLONIAL WARS EXCURSION POSTPONED. The Vermont society has received telegrams from Richard M. Call, coadjutor of the National Society of Colonial Wars, to the effect that on account of the pending mobilization of the National Guard, with which many of the officials of the society are identified, it will be impracticable for the general council to meet in Burlington as guests of the Vermont society June 22 and 23, as previously arranged. Accordingly, the Saturday excursion to historic points on the lake, recently announced, is cancelled. It is, however, expected that the council will come to Burlington for its annual convention later in the season.

COUNTY AGENT LAUNCHES OAT SMUT CAMPAIGN. Oat smut caused the farmers of Addison county a heavy loss in 1915. The county produced according to careful estimates about 75,000 bushels of oats last year, and at the very lowest the crop was decreased by at least 10 percent, the losses in some instances running as high as 20 percent. If 10 percent loss is taken as a fair average it means that oat smut caused a loss approximately of $2,500 bushels of oats. Figuring in terms of dollars this meant a loss to the county of $12,500.

Ten of the 2,000 Addison county farmers treated their oats for smut in 1915. Their fields were free from smut and no loss was suffered. The treatment consisted of diluting one pint of 90 percent formaldehyde with from 40 to 50 gallons of water and either soaking the seed, or sprinkling the oats on a barn floor and covering with blankets for two hours.

Addison county, as well as ten other Vermont counties, is alive to the situation and has a county agricultural agent who is always on the job ready to help the farmers out of such difficulties as the one here mentioned. Mr. Carrigan saw the opportunity and launched an oat smut treatment campaign to show the farmers how practical and how easy it is to treat oats for smut. Twenty demonstration meetings were held in as many different towns of the county and over four hundred farmers came out to see how the "trick" was done. Mr. Carrigan was busy with the shovel and sprinkling can while the farmers watched, asked questions and asked there would be no more oat smut on their farms.

A run on the drug stores followed. One Vergennes store sold more than a barrel of formaldehyde and many other stores in the county had to replenish their supply. As nearly as can be estimated at this time twenty-five per cent of the oats sown in Addison county were treated this year. With the smut as prevalent as last year this will mean a saving of at least $50,000 to the farmers of Addison county. On the 20 farms where the demonstrations were made, treated oats have been sown in the same field by the side of untreated oats so that the benefits may be measured definitely later in the year.

PROGRESSIVES FOR HUGHES

Third Party Men Will Support Republican Candidate.

Dr. H. Nelson Jackson, Vermont Member of National Committee, Looks for Formal Endorsement at Next Week's Meeting.

Dr. H. Nelson Jackson, the Vermont member of the progressive national committee, returned to this city early yesterday morning from New York, where he was called Sunday night by a telegram from Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, who, with Mr. Roosevelt, entertained six of the leaders of the Progressive party at luncheon Tuesday, after which Colonel Roosevelt read to them his declaration which will be presented by his secretary for him at the meeting of the progressive national committee to be held in Chicago on June 26. Dr. Jackson, when interviewed by a representative of the Free Press, was very reluctant to answer questions pertaining to the declaration as read by Colonel Roosevelt, although he did admit that in his opinion the majority of the progressive party leaders still stand lack of and support ex-Governor Hughes for president of the United States. Dr. Jackson will leave New York next Saturday with Colonel Roosevelt's secretary, John W. McElrath, to attend the meeting of the national committee in Chicago next Monday morning at which time the declaration of the colonel will be read.

The other leaders who were called to the conference with Colonel Roosevelt Tuesday were George Von L. Meyer of Boston, former secretary of the navy, organizer of the Roosevelt committee on which Colonel Hughes represented Vermont; Charles J. Bonaparte of Maryland, former attorney-general; N. Wilson Williams, national committeeman of Maryland; Ogden Reid of New York; and Joseph W. Alsop, national committeeman from Connecticut.

Dr. Jackson verified the information already had that Colonel Roosevelt in his declaration will decline the nomination of the Progressive party. When asked whether or not this meant that the colonel would, as far as he is in power, further the interests of Mr. Hughes by taking an active part in the campaign, Dr. Jackson would not admit it but neither did he deny it. He did, however, give it as his opinion that the progressives will officially endorse Mr. Hughes candidacy.

When questioned, Dr. Jackson, reiterated the statement that he made in New York that he, as well as many other progressive leaders, is for Hughes, but that there are a great number of radicals, even on the progressive national committee, who cannot be convinced at this time that a third ticket is absolutely impossible. He gave it as his opinion that the majority of progressives will rally around Hughes after next week, in answer to the question as to whether or not the progressives would go back to the Republican party, from which they sprang, Dr. Jackson said, "From the experience I have had by meeting national leaders in New York and from my correspondence with the leaders in Vermont I would emphatically reply 'yes' to that question." When asked as to what plans the Progressive party had for the future, Dr. Jackson replied: "The majority of progressives have such faith and confidence in Colonel Roosevelt that they will follow his lead. Dr. Jackson would make no further statements until after the meeting of the progressive committee to be held in Chicago next week.

A YOUTHFUL WARRIOR. Eight-Year-Old Boy Slightly Wounded in Playmate.

Martin Barry, the eight-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Barry of 241 Loomis street, became extremely warlike yesterday afternoon after watching M. company, of which his older brother is a member, perform some difficult evolutions on the University of Vermont campus, and returning home, took down his trusty air rifle from its honored position above the fireplace and went a soldiering. Before he could be dissuaded by the superior force of his pursuing parents, in the person of Mrs. Barry, he managed to wound his eight-year-old playmate, Marian Cramer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Cramer, in the calf of her right leg and to inflict some damage on his bull pup's hind-quarters.

The little boy was standing so close to his playmate when performing his military exercises that the bullet from the air rifle pierced her flesh, but penetrated only a short distance into the leg that Mrs. Cramer was able to remove it herself before bandaging the wound and no injuries are expected other than a slight lameness for a few days. The bull pup's injuries could not be ascertained as he went into a hole under the house and refused to emerge even after Martin had been captured. It is probable that Mr. Barry and his wife will not be on intimate terms for some time.

BROADBENT-BULLOCK. Pretty Wedding Ceremony at Bride's Home Last Evening.
